Salinas, Calif., Friday, March 25, 1960

Number 15

International Dance Scheduled For April 2

"International Festival Dance" is the name for the semiformal affair April 2, in the women's gymnasium.

Five members of the International Club will vie for the title, "Miss International," and the winner will be crowned at the dance sponsored by the International Club. The women are Darlene Gin, Miss China; Barbara Tashiro, Miss Japan; Sophia Gracia, Miss Mexico; Frankie Bulilis, Miss Philippines; and Lauralee Hester, Miss U.S.A.

Queen chosen during the dance will reign for the remainder of the evening. Students will vote for their choice at the door.

Music will be presented by the "Red Vests," a five-piece combo from Pittsburgh, Calif. This group was chosen for its versatility.

Everyone Welcome

Prices for the dance which is from 9 to 1 are $1 for singles and $1.75 for couples with student body cards and $1.50 for singles and $2.25 for couples without S.B. card. Alumni, faculty, students and their guests are welcome, according to Frankie Bulilis, secretary of International Club.

Featured entertainment at the dance will be an international fashion show, Filipino folk dance, and Hawaiian pantomime.

Decorations for the event will follow an international theme, and anyone who would like to help is welcome, says Miss Bulilis.

Committees Named

Committees for the dance are Nellie Lorejo, entertainment; Ruth Dacpano, refreshments; Sophia Gracia, music; Ramona Insular, publicity; Frankie Bulilis, decorations; and Barbara Tashiro, finance.

This will be the first dance of this type sponsored by the International Club, but it plans to make it an annual affair.

Science Lectures Ending Tonight

Effects of the weather over the last 5,000 years will be discussed by Mr. William Bullis, engineering instructor, in the finale of the science lecture series tonight.

All students are invited to attend the lecture in the Hartnell Library at 8 o'clock.

Bullis, consulting engineer with the U.S. Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, regards the weather as an active force in human life and in national development.

If we know the history of weather effects on man, do we

Students Asked To Give Blood

Hartnell students are again asked to give blood to the Salinas Red Cross Blood Bank. A student committee will be in charge of gathering volunteers and arranging transportation for the students to get to the building in town.

Last year Hartnell students were very generous in their cooperation in giving to a worthwhile cause. The date is April 4, 1 to 4 p.m.

ACT Examination

American College testing program exams will be given in the Hartnell library, April 23.

These tests are required for transfers to San Francisco State, Long Beach State and Alameda State at Hayward. The tests are also required for entering freshmen at many colleges. Although many colleges do not require this test, they recommend it.

The ACT exam, which will last from 8:30 to 12:30, covers English, mathematics, social science, and natural science.

Students who are interested in taking the tests should see Dr. Duane Sandgren, dean of counseling services before the April 1 deadline, as this is the last testing date for fall transfers. Price for these tests is $3.

CJCSGA Meet Plans Completed

Final plans have been formulated for the 29th semiannual California Junior College Student Government Association convention to be held at Hotel del Coronado in San Diego, March 31 to April 2.

More than 350 student leaders and their advisers will convene for three days of general assemblies, workshops, discussion groups and social functions. Official host is San Diego Junior College; co-hosts are Imperial Valley, Ocean-side-Carlsbad, Palomar and Palo Verde Colleges.

Hartnell delegates and the workshops they will attend are as follows: Bob Braun, athletics; Leo Tomasini, finance; Joanna Cruyzen, campus activities; Judy Wong, publicity and publication; and Roy Hanna, newly elected student body president, will attend the student government and campus problems sessions.

Miss June Handley, Dean of Students, will accompany the group. The delegation will depart from a San Francisco airport aboard a Pacific Southwest Airliner at noon, March 31, with arrival time in San Diego set at 1:15 p.m.

Varied Activities

Keynote speaker of the Thursday night Welcome Banquet will be Congressman Dalip Saund of the 29th District. Following dinner, orientation sessions and workshop meetings, a get-acquainted dance will conclude the first day's activities.

Friday night, the delegates will go on a harbor cruise and dance after a day of discussion, workshops and regional meetings.

Late Saturday afternoon will find the delegations heading home after the final elections and luncheon. Hartnell delegates expect to arrive home Saturday evening.

SB Elections Uneventful

What started out to be a dismal one-sided election, didn't improve its status by a great margin in spite of the urgings by student leaders that competition is the key to selecting capable officers.

Without any competition worry, Roy Hanna cinched the position of Associated Student Body president. Others in the white ballot sweep include Larry Parker, sophomore president; Walter Sorenson, commissioner of the student store, and Paul Rauscher, commissioner of rallies and assemblies.

Most contested position, that of commissioner of cultural activities, was won by Jan Hunting over Charles Drew. Charles Dudley is the new sophomore representative for next year and Violet Shiratsuki will take over the position of student body secretary next fall.

Tryouts To Be Held For Hartnell's Production "Taming Of The Shrew"

Tryouts for the Hartnell College-Community Playhouse production, Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew," will be held Monday, March 28, 7 p.m., in the Little Theatre, according to Mr. Hal Ulrich, drama instructor and play director.

The plot weaves around a suitor who generates enough nerve to marry a hellcat woman. It arises out of a tradition of the period which states that the second daughter cannot marry before the eldest.

The younger daughter, greatly admired by three young men, is in a "predicament" until a suitor who believes he can "tame the shrew" comes along and breaks the continuing merry-go-round.

This production, employing a

College Chorus Performs Today

Hartnell's choir, under the direction of Mr. Vahe Aslanian, will perform in the men's gymnasium at today's 11:40 assembly.

The choir will open with "How Blessed Are They?" from the motet, "How Pleasant Are Thy Tabernacles." Included in this number will be a soprano part by Kathleen Cline and a flute obbligato by Sharon Easthouse.

Some of the famous numbers to be presented are Victor Young's "Around the World," Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma," and "Tammy." Included in "Tammy," Kathleen Cline will sing a soprano part, and Hollin Brooks will sing a baritone solo part.

A soprano solo, "Almost Like Being in Love," will be sung by Kathleen Cline, and Joseph Carellus, tenor, will sing a solo, "Come to Me, Bend to Me."

All the numbers will be accompanied by Lavon Robinson.

The choir consists of 46 members, 17 sopranos, 16 altos, 6 tenors and 7 bass and baritones.

Members of Choir

Sopranos are Audrey Boutte, Kathleen Cline, Darla Harris, Patricia Hicks, Carol Lasserot, Victoria LeBeau, Yvonne Lopp, Ann Muronaka, Dorothy Palmer, Carol Reischneider, Yvonne Scetrini, Norma Sellers, Dee Ann Smith, Sonya Swick, Loydene Thayer, Pauline Torrecillas, and Edwina Young.

Altos are Doris Brantley, Beth Brazil, Evelyn Chapman, Jean Daggio, Gloria Everly, June Kimoto, Pearl Mak, Julita Pedraza, Joe Anne Phillips, Sarah Phillips, Marilyn Pound, Louise Serfin, Lee Ann Simms, Bunny Umbaugh, Barbara Watkins and Karen Wilson.

Tenors are Fred Crummey, Joe Correllus, Simon Dangalon, Burdette Messenger, Joe Palacio and Bill Stretch.

Rings Available

Official Hartnell College class rings can be ordered in the Hartnell Book Store any time within the next two weeks ending April 8.

Rings are either in gold or sterling silver with a stone in the middle. The gold rings for boys are $24.50; the gold rings for girls are $20.60.

Sterling silver rings are the same design as the gold but are lower in cost. The silver for boys is $8, jumbos, $8.50, and the girl's silver rings are $7.50.

Gold pens may be purchased for $14.60.

Remember if interested see Mrs. Monnie Finney in the Book Store before April 8. Orders take approximately five weeks to be filled.

Tours Discussed

A colored travelogue of student European tours will be unveiled in the Little Theatre on Monday by Charles Waugaman.

Mr. Waugaman will illustrate these tours through central European countries with colored movies. Student questions will be answered after the movie.

Anyone who would like to see the movies or talk to Mr. Waugaman is welcome to attend the meeting, according to Miss June Handley, dean of students.

Advanced Art Class Shows Talents in Exhibit at Library

The art exhibit in the library is the work of Mr. Leon Amyx's advanced art class.

Seven artists who have their work on exhibit are Mrs. Barbara Hooper, Mrs. Roberta Walker, Mrs. Doris Witmer, Mrs. Gerda Culwell, Mrs. Martha Eppler, Mrs. Lorraine Rice and Mrs. Anita Johns.

Mrs. Hooper began painting 10 years ago and has exhibited her work in Pomona and San Luis Obispo.

Mrs. Walker is an experimenter and has explored many mediums in crafts as well as in the fine arts. She has exhibited several times in Salinas, Monterey Peninsula and Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Witmer has received most of her training from Mr. Amyx. She has had many exhibits of her work including a show at Hartnell College in 1959. In 1957 she won first prize in the San Luis Obispo County Fair for her portrait, "Joe."

Mrs. Culwell has received all of her training at Hartnell, where she originally attended as a full-time student. She is currently continuing her study of watercoloring in the painting class at Hartnell. In 1959 she was awarded first prize at the San Benito County Fair.

Mrs. Eppler started her art studies at Corcoran Art Gallery School, Washington, D.C., where she did charcoal and oil painting. She has exhibited at the Santa Cruz Art League's annual exhibitions and at the Monterey County Fair.

Mrs. Rice is a native of San Francisco where she first studied art. Moving to Salinas in 1956, she began a period of study and (Continued on Page 3)

EditorialSpring Has Sprung

Spring seems to have finally come to Hartnell's campus. Flowers are blooming, trees are green and everyone is cutting classes to enjoy the sunshine.

No one seems to like to study when the sun is shining and the air is warm. The beaches are welcoming many, while others prefer to lie in the sun on campus and work on their tan.

Many Spring Activities

Monday was the first day of spring. Soon all the spring activities will be starting. Baseball has already begun. The prom is planned and the big International Festival Dance is next week end. This will be the first year for the International Festival but it is planned as an annual affair in the future.

New Officers Elected

Elections are over, thank goodness! Some of the litter in the halls made one think of high school days. All the school spirit of participating in the elections seemed to be centered in the hands of a very few. These people should be commended for their school spirit but it could have been in a more mature fashion.

It is nice to see, however, that the person who was responsible for the most trash in our halls was elected to the position he sought. Maybe some of the students liked the stray bits of paper and arrows that dominated the halls for a week.

To all the newly elected officers, congratulations! We hope your stay in office will be successful and rewarding to you, as well as the student body.

Play Attendance High

The Hartnell Community Playhouse presented one of the most popular plays it has done this year to a very enthusiastic audience last week end. Outstanding performances were turned in by Lloyd Ebels, Marion Lewis and Mike Buntin.

Next month the Festival of Arts will be presented on campus. The success of this series depends on the cooperation of the students. An art lecture and exhibit is planned for May 6, while drama productions and music recitals are scheduled for the remainder of the month. Plan to attend some, if not all, of these activities.

EDITOR'S MAILBOX

Dear Editor:

Now that spring is here, perhaps Hartnell can blame her lack of interest in assemblies on "spring fever." But what has been the excuse for the last few weeks?

When the representative from DuPont came to Hartnell, the lack of attendance was actually embarrassing.

Last week, when the students stood up to give their reasons for seeking an Associated Student Body office, only a handful of people were there to hear them. If the pompon girls had not been there to present their last routines, perhaps the attendance would have been much lower.

However, at the Freshman Cavalcade of Talent, people were standing in the aisles. This much interest in an assembly is very good, but it does seem to point out one main idea—most students apparently go to the assemblies to be entertained. If the entertainments suit their fancy, good—they will go. But if it doesn't, an embarrassing lack of attendance will greet the speaker.

What can be done to remedy this situation? Perhaps Hartnell should examine other schools and their assembly programs to see if there is anything that can be done to solve this problem.

Writer's Holiday . . .

That journalism convention at the Hotel Whitcomb in San Francisco a couple of weeks ago was really something. . . . I never met so many happy-go-lucky people before in my life . . . so outwardly friendly! Journalism students from colleges all over California bombarded the 550-room hotel and transformed it into a three-ring circus. And our own Hartnell delegation by no means sat in the back seat and did nothing. . . . Tom, Jerry and Sam took a strong liking for green table cloths, grass hat hats, overworking the elevator operators, and teasing people from Palomar, L.A. Valley and San Bernardino College. And then Violet and Eileen who kept everyone awake at nights, and I'll never forget how Vi stayed up till 4 in the a.m., studying for Dr. Braverman's History 4B test. And me . . . oh, I had my share of fun, laughing, and exercise. . . .

Mr. Johnson even enjoyed himself . . . but the poor man was consistently bothered by nightmares Friday night. . . . He said he kept hearing girls screaming and laughing while running up and down the corridor. . . . Take it easy, Mr. J., perhaps you've been working too hard. But Tom got his first place trophy. Vi got too much roast beef Saturday night, Sam got his name plastered all over S.F. State, Eileen got the ashtray I stole, Jerry never got that girl in the navy blue dress and I got a headache . . . but it was fun, that's why more of you should join the Sentinel staff.

San Diego, Through the Air . . .

If I seem to be rattling off as if I'm way out in orbit, it's true. I've been in bliss ever since I was one of the lucky ones from the student commission to attend the state student government conference at San Diego. Joanna, Leo, Bob, Roy, and I will head for the southland aboard a Pacific Southwest airliner March 31 and headquarters at the romantic, elegant Victorian Hotel del Coronado, complete with sea, surf and sun. I've been marking the days off my calendar with a stubby pencil and Joanna tells me she has been packed for days. . . .

New Leaders, Prepare Now . . .

Congratulations to you new student body officers. You've got the jobs you've wanted now but there's a lot of work cut out for you. The student body has placed its confidence in your hands so show your appreciation by doing your work well. Let's not wait until September. There's still time to prepare this year for next year. A bouquet to all of you from the Sentinel staff.

PLEASE, LEND YOUR LITTLE EARS TO MY PLEAS . . . cuz what's a little pint of blood amongst friends. For someone who gives—you won't miss it. But for the receiver, it's the stuff of life. The Red Cross unit will visit Salinas on Monday, April 4. How about helping to fill the quota—an average of 166 pints a month is needed. Signup is today, and students under 21 need approval of their parents. MAY I? Compare Dick Shaw to Shakespeare's Prince Hal? Here's a fellow who had never read Shakespeare's didn't care to, and ends up with 47 out of 50 quotations right on a mid-term! Zowie, and this same Shaw, a la young Prince Hal, played through high school and barely eked his way through. Furthermore, he made Alpha Gamma Sigma on the basis of last semester's grade-point average. Does it remind you, too, of Prince Hal when he said:

"So when this loose behavior I throw off
And pay the debt I never promised
By how much better than my word I am,
By so much shall I falsify men's hopes . . ."

Doesn't that sound like one Dick Shaw when he became a

DEAR HEARTS AND GENTLE PEOPLE . . . Know you'll be happy to hear that Roy Phelps, the Hartnell student blinded last year in a chemistry accident, is in San Francisco at a rehabilitation center and from there he'll be training with a guide dog. Wouldn't it be fun to send him a big Easter egg filled with legal tender—your ten cents and mine—as a token of friendship?

TIME AFTER TIME . . . our neighbors on Homestead complain they can't get in or out of their driveways. As Mr. Dufour pointed out at the assembly, there's ample parking space in the lots. You better believe it's not fun to be a taxpayer and then find you and your friends can't park in front of what you're paying taxes on (dangling preposition in the face of a dangling proposition). Really, a few steps on foot won't cause your arches to fall. . . .

STORMY WEATHER . . . for the Hartnell cagers this past season. But as Coach Muldoon said: "We learned a lot about basketball." He prophesies better results next year in that the predominantly freshman team will be back tossing hoops for the Panthers in '61.

IT'S A SIN TO TELL A LIE . . . and sometimes it's one to tell the truth. This we learned from Ed Montgomery, Pulitzer prize-winning Examiner reporter who spoke at the recent journalism conference in San Francisco. With newspapermen, the occasion for withholding evidence is when the clan gathers for luncheon and dinner meetings at the Press and Union League Club in San Francisco and the "inside-inside" story is not to be breathed, let alone published. The symbol for all this secrecy is a be-spectacled black cat, which is placed in front of the speaker.

. . . Well, there was no black cat at our table at the Saturday night banquet for the conference-goers. Sooo, now it can be told. Our normally cool cat, Tom Alderson, was as nervous as a treed cat when they announced he'd won first place in the feature writing contest . . . and the rest of us were like wildcats . . . with delight, to be sure.

Amyx To Lead Student Discussion

Turning from the turbulent days of California's youth to the esoteric atmosphere of modern artistic expression, the student-faculty discussion group looks to next week's topic of "Esoterica Revisited: The Why of Modern Art."

Leon Amyx, veteran art instructor, will lead the discussion.

Highlighting the program will be a display of paintings and prints representing a panorama of contemporary artists.

Amyx has outlined the discussion in hopes it will stimulate a lively response of opposing views — from lovers of representational art as opposed to abstract.

At the last meeting of the discussion group Wednesday, another gathering of students listened to social science instructor Robert Johnston talk on "John Fremont, Pathfinder or Petulant Gringo?"

Fall Football Trip Planned

Do you all remember what happened last fall with that supposedly spectacular trip to Boise? Do you remember how nothing was accomplished in order that interest would be high for that trip? Well, this year there is a person among us who is working hard to see that next fall the interest will be high and topnotch among the student body in support of the football team.

The Panthers are scheduled to head south to meet the Orange Coast Pirates. A big week end to highlight that game is in store. Rooters will leave by bus Saturday morning (early) and arrive in Orange Coast that afternoon. A tour through the glamorous movie capital of the world, Hollywood, will be next on the itinerary. Perhaps you will all see your favorite movie stars.

After checking in at the hotel (specific one has not been selected as yet, but it will be a good one) and having dinner, the whole Hartnell group will go to the Orange Coast College and root the Panthers on to victory. An after-game dance is scheduled to climax the evening's activities. The next morning, an excursion to the famous playground of the world, Disneyland, will conclude this memorable week end.

Arrival in Salinas is set for Sunday evening. The whole cost of this week end is only $25; not much for so much fun and excitement, so start saving and planning now. And who is this person planning all this for YOU? None other than PAUL RAUSCHER, your new commissioner of rallies and assemblies.

Student Wins Top Award

Editor's Note — Six members of the Hartnell journalism department recently attended the California Intercollegiate Press Convention at San Francisco. One of the features of the convention was the competitive writing by representatives from nearly thirty junior colleges.

T. R. Alderson, associated writer for the Panther Sentinel, captured first place honors at the conference. Below is the story that won him the gold trophy. Subject of the story was to tell his impression of the San Francisco convention.

Our delegation stumbled through the front door of the Whitcomb Hotel, San Francisco. The first thing that I noticed in the large, cavern-like lobby, were the many tight, nervous little cloisters of students that would burst, spasmodically, into enthusiastic greetings, warm handshakings, boisterous calls and then regroup, self-consciously, into themselves. Looking around quickly, I saw the familiar faces of my classmates who were also grouped tightly together.

There was a great din in the hotel: shouts of greetings seemed to echo off the marble walls. Delegation heads and yelling instructions threaded frantically through the hoard of people trying to get their reservations, find straggling individuals, look for friends. A pretty girl, with a transistor radio in her purse, half-danced in a barren corner, her eyes only partly open. An old man scowled his way across the lobby, elbowing people out of his path.

To me, and to the delegation from Hartnell, this convention was not a new experience. We had been christened last year and were now confident veterans. That was the most self-assuring feeling I could have. Methodically, and with obvious pride, we collected our luggage, our typewriters, our books and magazines and edged our way into our rooms. Then, exchanging confident smiles, we returned to the lobby to let ourselves be drawn in, into the shuffling — talking, yelling, friendly mass of students.

Outside, there was no warmth, no friendliness. The streets were slick and wet, the sky ominous. The San Franciscans marched quickly along the sidewalks, looking at the pavement. It was only inside of the hotel, where the smoke lay in stratified layers near the ceiling, that I felt happy and warm. In the mezzanine, delegations were meeting and exchanging notes, talking about careers in journalism and newspaper work. The instructors, some graduates of the same schools, met in congenial, understanding groups.

Some of the writers in my group left the hotel immediately and began to explore the great pseudo-

Roman forum in Civic Center. From the hotel, I could see people wind their way through the long rows of colonnades. To the people from small towns, like Salinas, San Francisco is truly Bagdad, and its hills, its streets, its people, are demi-gods.

The coffee was warm, the delegates excited, vitally nervous, pleased. The whole thing, a sweeping picture of laughing people, busy people, hurrying people made me feel like I too was part of them, attending this conference.

Panthers Chase Indians Around Warmup Track

"I thought our boys looked very well," Coach Ed Adams said in describing the track meet between the Panthers and the Stanford Frosh last Friday.

Scheduled not as a conference meet, but more as a comprehensive warmup for both sides, the Panthers nonetheless proved mightier in some events than the Indians.

Outstanding job of the afternoon was turned in by Andy Bulaich, a Yugoslav Panther. Big Bulaich won a first place in the shotput, second in javelin and third in discus. He was joined in the shotput by Jack Lafferty who won a fourth. No fifths were awarded.

Another visitor to the winning circle was Dennis Lopes who charged in with a triumph in the 100-yard dash. Teammate Jerry Wilkinson joined him with a fourth place.

Additional glory was heaped on the name of Hartnell by a win in the distance medley relay—a running of four different events tied together by the passed baton. Making up the team were Norman Davies on the starting 440-yard leg of the relay, Robert Rackley on the 880, Stuart Friend on the 1320, and Bruce Logan holding down the mile post. Elapsed time was near 11 seconds, ". . . a darned good time, considering the track," according to Coach Adams.

Other bright spots in the afternoon endeavors included the performance of Mike Nail who broadjumped to second place; Bill Allen, who polevaulted to third-place heights; and James Hauk who jumped up to second place. Wilkinson joined Hauk in the highjump to gain a fourth place.

"Yes, I think the boys did very well," Adams repeated. "We had contestants representing us in every event and they really put out against some tough competition. And I would say that every one of them is improving."

The conference track season opens for real tomorrow when the Panthers travel north to meet the San Jose City College Jaguars on the SJ home field.

Noble Attempt Fails

Gary Alfonso is shown above reaching for first base in the March 17 game with Menlo Park as the umpire yells, "You're out!" This was the second out of the ninth inning. Final score was Menlo 6, Hartnell 2. Hartnell scored its two runs in the first four innings. After the fourth, with the score 2 to 0 Hartnell, the Panthers died and Menlo took over.

Hart Baseballers Drop Both Matches With Menlo Oaks

Hartnell diamondmen opened conference play by meeting Menlo Oaks on two successive dates only to be crushed on both occasions. The Panthers began their first conference game March 15 at Menlo Park and were handed a 19-0 defeat as Menlo smashed 14 hits over Hartnell's three.

On March 17, at the Hartnell diamond, the Harts met Menlo once more in hopes of revenge for the previous beating from Menlo. But visions for revenge were soon shattered by Menlo, with a 6-2 victory.

In the second inning the Harts led on the scoreboard with a 2-0 edge. But what looked like a Panther revenge was soon crushed in the fourth inning when Menlo whopped through four home runs.

The Oaks erupted in the final frame for two more runs to put the game on ice.

Tomorrow the Harts will meet Diablo College in a doubleheader conference game on the Martinez diamond, at 11:00 a.m.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps, you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards . . . as a Navigator in the U.S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—healthy, single, and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant . . . and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.
